New client in a sustainable redevelopment: Sharp Insurance Brokers

In Belgium as in the USA, community leaders and developers create impressive masterplans to enliven defunct industrial corridors into sustainable spaces in which to live, work and connect. Saffre Frères in Oudenaarde is just such a development. Formerly a textile production factory, this site was redeveloped by Revive and Architecten Achtergael.

"The Saffre Frères factory is an important strategic project for Oudenaarde due to its size and location in the city center close to the station. The masterplan starts with a well-thought-out design of public spaces tailored to the new living environment, within which plots with various typologies are defined. Maximum effort is made to integrate the industrial heritage, which also determines the character of the site and can accommodate community facilities."

Bulo partnered with Dna Architecten to furnish Sharp Insurance Brokers, a key tenant in the development. It's wonderful to work with a client whose values echo our own desire for sustainability, installing beautiful and functional design in a space that simultaneously reveals the past, celebrates the present and offers longevity and opportunity for the future.
